NOBILITY IS SEEN, NOT HEARD.

MULTI-RACIALISM AND RACE-MIXING, THE CREEPING CANCER IN OUR NATION'S LIFEBLOOD.

Shocking statistics released by the Office of National Statistics has revealed that miscegination, that is race-mixing is now reaching alarming levels in some inner city areas of Britain.

According to the official figures, one in three black men in Britain is either living with or married to a white woman. There are no figures as to how many white women are living with Asian or Oriental men. Nor were figures obtained as to how many white men have black or non-white wives.

These figures are a terrible reflection of the grip of multi-racialism on our country. The threat to the nation's continued existence as a white European country is very real. The numbers of mixed-race children being born from these families is a genetic timebomb aimed at the life blood of our race and folk.

CASH AND CORRUPTION NOW THE PILLARS OF BRITISH ESTABLISHMENT POLITICS.

Forces of financial power rule the corridors of British politics.

In the last issue of BROADSWORD, the front page was dedicated to exposing the political double-dealing and cash purchasing of political influence and funding of the mainstream political parties. In this issue we continue to look at the big-money backers of the major parties and further deceipt in Britain's corridors of power.

December 1996, Conservative Cabinet Office minister David Willetts if forced to resign after an official report accuses him of lying to a parliamentary enquiry into the "cash for questions" scandal. Despite the usual cover provided by powerful friends in high places, Willetts had to go; Quentin Davies the Tory member of the parliamentary Standards and Privileges Committee was forced to admit, " None of us found it possible to believe the evidence that he gave to the committee."

David Willetts was considered to be a Conservative high flyer and cornerstone of the political establishment. This is the level of integrity in the British Establishment, "Old Corruption" has not only returned but is now the pillar of the system.

These politicians are the figureheads of the present British political system and this is an example of how they operate. These are the chief opponents of National Socialism and theirs is the system that National Socialism totally opposes and seeks to remove.

In other matters, as the next General Election looms, the main parties are looking for financial backers, from a recent edition of the "Jewish Chronicle" comes these interesting tit-bits.

The "J.C." states that the Tories aim to use the "expertise of Jewish businessmen to boost their campaign finances." To this end a board of treasurers chaired by banker CharlesHambro and including Leonard Steinberg, Sir Basil Feldman, and the property developer Sir Geoffrey Leigh.

The Labour Party can also count on strong financial support from Jewish quarters; publisher BobGavron and Jewish Care chairman Michael Levy are on Labour's fund-raising committee.

Leslie Silver former chairman of football's Leeds United told the "J.C." that he had donated £25,000 to the Labour election fund. Bob Gavron is rumoured to have given an amazing £500,000 to the Labour Party campaign fund.

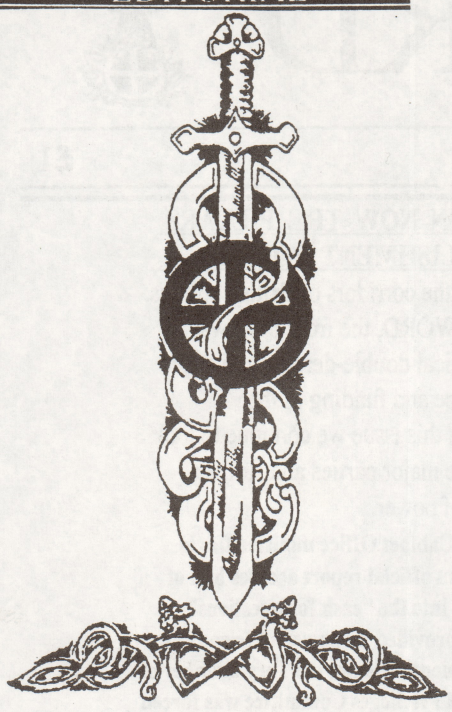
THE BROADSWORD EDITORIAL



FORWARD TO THE FUTURE:

How the British Movement will accomplish its aims.

Revolutions in national society do not take place overnight and the British Movement is looking towards a long struggle.

Influence amongst working-class people and small business people is important, and the attraction of National Socialism as an alternative to the established political system in Britain. In the last two national general elections in the UK, less than 35% of the voting population cast their vote for the winning government. In total over a third of those eligible to vote did not do so, Why ?

It is that mass of disaffected British voters that British Movement will seek to appeal and influence. By political propaganda and local and regional political activity, the BM will establish a grass roots power base across the country. British society is already splintered across lines of class, wealth and race. Disaffection with the presence of millions of Third World immigrants and asylum seekers in Britain is polarising an already embittered and divided population. Together with economic decline the national political stage is ripe for the re- emergence of militant National Socialism.

In turn the Movement will fund its own structure through related business ventures and co-operative business projects employing BM members and supporters.

When the Movement has the grassroots political influence it needs to motivate mass street activities, it can start to exert pressure on local and national political issues and policy making.

Such a long term strategy demands commitment, discipline and determination.

BRITISH MOVEMENT. WHERE WE STAND.

The British Movement is a National Socialist organisation and as such is dedicated to the creation of a mono-racial society based on the foundations of Family and Folk, Blood and Soil, Race and Nation.

Britain has sunk into stagnant ditch as this century closes, what point is there in foreign policy when the government cannot put our own country in order ? Why is Britain pumping funds overseas and interfering in other countries when Britain is in a mess ?

The political, economic and social chaos which Britain has become can only be resolved by a total break with the existing system, only through National Socialism within a new concept and a new system can the future be secured. A National Socialist New Order built on the principles of Race, Nationhood and citizenship of the Folk, understanding the law and applying the law of Race, Blood and Soil.

BRITISH MOVEMENT.

WE BELIEVE....

RACE IS ALL. Our folk must again respect their past and strive towards their great destiny. We must instill in all generations an awareness of the importance of Race and purity of blood. Mongrelisation destroys the heritage and stifles all future achievements. Our civilisation is secure only in purity of Race and belief in destiny..

MONEY THE SERVANT A stable economy is one which reflects the true worth of the community. Money is a mere token of this wealth- a means of exchange to allow convenient trading of goods and services. The modern notion of money controlling the people must be broken and a total change in the finincial system is required

A PART OF NATURE We must ensure that the beauty and resources of our earth are preserved for the benefit of future generations of our folk. We must not waste or destroy the natural order-the balance of which is so vital for the well being of all life. Our new moral code will not allow scientists, businessmen and politicians alike playing at god in the name of curiosity, monetary gain or profit.

BEYOND CAPITALISM AND COMMUNISM The ideologies of the old world strive for the total enslavement of all peoples. We are against the materialistic rat race of lust under Capitalism as well as the monotonous drudgery in the grey bureaucrats of Communism.

EUROPE A FAMILY The peoples of Europe stem from a common racial root. We must enjoin in spiritual union for the defence of our freedoms against common enemies. Our strong Race founded bloc will scale new heights in all fields for the advancement of our vibrant culture.

THE ETERNAL STRUGGLE Mankind must continually strive for higher, better life-struggle for a brighter, more nobel world. Each day must bring new challenges in the perpetual struggle towards greater civilisation. There can be no perfect world but our folk must strive towards its improvement leaving behind the decay of todays moribund world.

The Werewolf Column

In the first decade of the British Movement as a political entity, the priority of all the Movement's efforts was firstly to revive the ideology of National Socialism in Britain, and secondly to put the Movement's name and purpose into the public mind. This was achieved by and large by 1983 through direct action, wide ranging recruitment built on the media image of the British Movement and a series of high profile marches and rallies.

Although the Movement was able to recruit large numbers of young people and spread our literature and propaganda material across the country, this wave of populism was a double-edged sword. There were many people who were "media recruits" or "fashion recruits". Uncommitted to the struggle and only interested in being part of a notorious and politically aggressive organisation. It was the media image these people were following not the ideology of National Socialism. Mass recruitment brought in o bvious problems of screening out undesirables and many untrained and untested members were given organiser status to cope with rapid expansion. This was part of the Movement's undoing in this period.

Now the Movement looks towards the future and once again we look towards influencing large numbers of the younger generations. We need people of all ages and at all levels of society, but the youth are tomorrow's leaders and tomorrow's activists. We look to youth and the future, a youth betrayed by conventional politics and betrayed by the multi-cultural society, an angry generation.

A QUESTION OF CULTURE. (1)

A revival of Celtic and Gaelic culture and language, a small glimmer of hope for the future. Despite the never ending onslaught on our national culture by the Trans-Atlantic forces of the One-world, New World Order, there are signs that traditional cultures are not only surviving but reviving.

The native languages of Welsh and Gaelic are powerful elements in British culture, powerful elements which the Third World immigrants cannot share in and cannot identify with. Survival of these Celtic languages and revival of Manx and Cornish are links with our Nation's folkish roots and defy the destructive forces of Internationalism.

As National Socialists we must preserve and defend the existence and use of these strong cultural elements and use them as tokens of our National diversity and heritage.

A QUESTION OF CULTURE (2)

From the madhouse minds that brought you the multi-racial society, a new concept;

AFRO - SAXON !

The latest peer of the realm, Lord Taylor of Warwick is every inch the multi-culturalist dream, he is the living proof of the new "Black British", he describes himself as an Afro-Saxon.

According to a recent interview with a Sunday newspaper, Lord Taylor, the first black Conservative peer in the House of Lords, sees himself as the face of Britain's future governments. He says he is inspired by the progress of the Jews in Britain, after all Lord Taylor's wife is Jewish.

He is quoted as saying of his wife's grandfather, "In those days it was unthinkable that a Conservative Cabinet would be dominated by Jews. But Lady Thatcher filled her Cabinet with them. That's what will happen with Afro-Saxons."

BRITISH JEWS REVEAL EXISTENCE OF NEW JEWISH "SECURITY" ORGANISATION.

The Jewish Chronicle, news organ of the Jewi sh Community in Britain has surprisingly released details of a new "security" organisation which will operate throughout the country against what the 'J.C.' describes as " the threat to Anglo-Jewry posed by Islamic and far-right extremists ". The new organisation is called the Community Security Trust and replaces the Board of Deputies ' Communal Security Organisation and un believably is a registered charity !

The CST has not only received offici al charitable status, but is also approved of, and commended by the Metropolitan Police. The Commissioner, Sir Paul Condon was only too pleased to describe the new group as " a sophisticated, disciplined security organi sation which is ethical and works in partnership with the police. "

Even more surprising is the statement by Assistant Commissioner David Veness who stated, " if the CST did not exist, the police would have to invent it. "

The CST is technically not a department of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, but the controlling board of the CST sounds like a roll-call of leading British Zionists; Eldred Tabachnik (who just happens to be president of the Board of Deputies) , Ronnie Stekel (who is the Board of Deputies 'defence' chairman), Lord Wolfson, Sir Trevor Chinn, Gerald Ronson, David Sieff, Sir Harry Solomon, and a number of other wealthy and influential figures from the Jewish community.

The CST claims to have around 2,000 trained volunteers already in place, and seeks to "interact with non-Jewish organisations that share its anti-racist policies". Exactly what is meant by trained volunteers is unclear, although the 'J.C.' stated that the CST will train Jewish youngsters in self-defence techniques and give instructions on how to protect communal buildings and events. On a more sinister note, a CST official said that the organisation was involved in collecting information on groups which were seen as threatening the safety of the (Jewish) community. " The Board of Deputies still deals with the political defence of the community but we deal with the 'hands-on' stuff. "

Just exactly what the CST means by "hands-on stuff" we can only guess at but the statements about collecting information on organisations that 'they' regard as threatening sounds ominous. Surely there are enough Zionist, anti-racist/anti-fascist , Marxist-Leninist organisations doing that already, without another one ? Or are we missing something here ?

Just how will the CST operate alongside the police, " with whom we (CST) work very closely." ???

New Jewish Security Organisation. C.S.T.

Where does the Public Order Act stand on self-defence groups ?

In 1962, the Home Office was quick to act against the Spearhead g roup which was set up from within Mr. Colin Jordan's NSM (National Socialist Movement) to protect and defend NSM activities and premises. The group was prosecuted under the 1936 Public Order Act because it was deemed to be "organi zing, training and equipping in such a manner as to arouse reasonable apprehension that they were organized and trained to be employed for the use or display of force in promoting political objectives."

The Home Office has always m aintained this position towards all politically raised self-defence groups, and the police have actively discouraged so called vigilantes.

Why is the CST treated differently ?

THE MULTI-RACIAL SOCIETY. RECIPE FOR DISASTER.

The false idea of the Britain as a multi-cultural, multi-racial society was first launched by so-called left-wing/liberal thinkers in the early 1970's. This "internationalist" stance was seen by its advocates as a means of silencing any public debate on continued coloured immigration into Britain and as an 'intellectual' argument against the anti-immigration protests organisations politically active at the time.

This line of thinking by the then emerging Race Relations Industry was designed to convince the British public to accept the "ethnic minority communities" because "they were here to stay". The left-wing argument being that if you accept that Britain is multi-racial and multi-cultural, then you cant object to these people being here.

The race-relations "thinkers" were also keen to get the British public to stop thinking of the non-white incomers as "immigrants" and to start thinking of them as "ethnic minorities", another play on words designed to create acceptance and stifle protest by the "real British".

The kind of left-wing, soft liberal nonsense generated by the Race Relations industry is well illustrated by the article in the next column on this page.

Multi-racial Britain. Where do they spend all the tax-payers money ?

The Race Relations industry has grown from its small beginnings in the late 1960's into a multi-million pound industry which has impregnated all levels of British society, but none so more as in the fields of education, health and social service/welfare provision.

Here is a typical example of where the tax-payers' money goes, not on services for pensioners or the poor but;

and what is it that these vitally important resources do ?

The Moyenda Project has run the Exploring Parenthood courses since 1991. According to supporting literature this course was set up because, " many black parents found it difficult to participate fully in mixed cultural parenting groups and it wanted to identify and respond to the specific needs of black families."

Inspired by this work, the Moyenda project now runs a special course for white women who have children to black fathers but are bringing up the children alone. This course is designed to help these unfortunate white women to, " discuss racism and cultural diversity, and to discover ways they can help their children feel positive about being black.

More importantly the Project leader says, " Just because you have a black child doesn't mean you cannot be racist. We want to provide a safe environment where white parents can examine their attitudes towards black people, learn about racism and examine their feelings about being white. We want them to realise that it is fine to recognise and celebrate difference and use this to help their children develop a positive black identity."

To ensure this crucial work is done, the Department of Health gave the Moyenda project £42,000 over three years. Black Families Talking project got £92,000 over two years from the Joseph Rowntree Foundation; and Black Fathers course got £8,500 from the Department of Health.

Good to know that the tax-payers money is being so wisely spent on such important multi-racial, multi-cultural resources.

Don't you agree ?

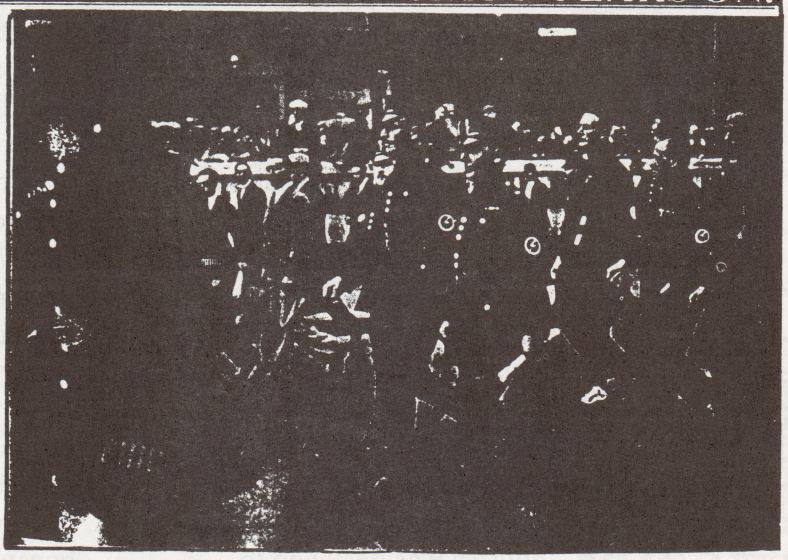
THE BATTLE OF CABLE STREET. SIXTY YEARS ON.

"We ask those who join us to march with us in a great and hazardous adventure. We ask them to be prepared to sacrifice all, but to do so for no small and unworthy ends. We only offer them the deep belief that they are fighting that a great land may live."
Sir Oswald Mosley.
1st October 1932.



THE BATTLE OF CABLE STREET, 1936. SIXTY YEARS ON.

In the great mythology of the extreme-Left is the legend that the Communist mobs were able to stop and defeat the forces of the British Union of Fascists on October 4th 1936. The great truth of the Battle of Cable Street is that it was a riot by the combined forces of the Left and the East End Jews against the Police. Barely a handful of Blackshirts even saw the area around Cable Street on the day, and it was the Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police who halted the BUF march and requested that Sir Oswald Mosley led his columns away from the East End.

The march by the BUF through the East End in October 1936 was planned to be the biggest fascist demonstration on British streets ever: the Blackshirt columns were to assemble by the Royal Mint near the Tower of London and march through Shoreditch, Limehouse, Stepney, Bow and Bethnal Green; in each district there would be a rally and speeches by Mosley. The BUF was well established in the East End and it is part of the Left-wing myth that the Blackshirts were outsiders coming in to cause trouble. On the other hand, in order to oppose the BUF march, the Communist Party and the Trade Unions had brought in hundreds of supporters from as far away as Liverpool and Glasgow.

On October 4th 1936, the BUF formed up its orderly ranks alongside the Royal Mint and Sir Oswald Mosley arrived in his staff car to review the Blackshirts in marching order. Meanwhile the anti-fascist mobs which had been gathering all day, were busy throwing everything they could lay their hands on at the Police, and were tearing up paving stones to build barricades across the streets. Odd groups of East End Blackshirts and BUF supporters fought their way through the "Red mob" to reach the estimated 3,000 Blackshirts gathered at the Royal Mint.

It was then that Sir Philip Game, the Police Commissioner told Mosley that the march could not proceed on its intended route, so the BUF marched in the opposite direction to eventually rally near Charing Cross Bridge. Contrary to the fiction told by the leftists, the fascists of the BUF did march on the day, but not through the East End. More to the point, the Special Branch reports of the day estimate that the BUF gained up to 2,000 new recruits in the East End in the months immediately after Cable Street.

The Marxists in Britain have told and retold the story of Cable Street a thousand times, always ready to embroider some new fiction into the old story, the slogan "No Pasaran" (Spanish for

NATIONALISM IN THE PAST.
THE BATTLE OF CABLE STREET. SIXTY YEARS ON.

"They Shall Not Pass") was borrowed from the Communist inspired International Brigades who were in 1936, fighting and looking forward to certain defeat in the Spanish Civil War.

The Marxist historians like to pretend that somehow the riots in Cable Street were part of the great international struggle against fascism, and because one or two Communist participants in Cable Street later fought (and lost) in Spain, it lends weight to their collective fantasy. Periodically over the last sixty years the Left have created some kind of media event on the street corners of Stepney to commemorate Cable Street. In the heady days of London's left-wing Labour councils, a memorial mural was expensively created on a local wall to "celebrate" that triumph of community over fascism (or something similar). So popular has that piece of art proved that the council has had to have it covered in a special varnish to protect it from the graffitti and paint hurled at it by local Nationalists. Tower Hamlets Council officially marked the anniversary on October 6th 1996 and a local history group was sponsored to work on a commemoration and a series of public meetings. In the great tradition of the British Left for sitting down and endlessly debating the same old ground, the meetings intend to celebrate Cable Street, have all revolved around "the lessons of Cable Street". Also in keeping with that other great Marxist tradition of parading down the street with lots of placards and red flags, a Cable Street commemoration march was held, setting off deliberately from the so-called Altab Ali Park through the East End to Cable Street. The noticable presence of the banner of the Communist Party of Britain (Greater London), near the front of the march, served as a reminder that although the Soviet Union has collapsed, the Communists are still lurking around and are still causing the same kind of trouble they were causing in 1936.

The usual old-timers from the International Brigade and the East End Jewish community were trotted out to make the same old speeches, and stand with clenched fist salutes singing the "Internationale" and croaking "No Pasaran", doubtlessly to the delight of their younger admirers, while assorted "professional anti-fascists" rattled the collecting tin . There is, in the words of the old saying, "No show without Punch", and of course Gerry Gable, the editor of "Searchlight" magazine, the international anti-fascist monthly was there to be seen, marching alongside Monty Goldman, an old timer, post war Young Communist League member and activist from the days of the 43 Group and the 62 Group. Judging by the less than flattering photgraphs published recently in his magazine, Mr Gable was not feeling very well on the day and despite the arm full of back issues of "Searchlight" he was carrying, his mind was elsewhere. (Perhaps on the numerous legal actions currently being taken against him and his publication).

The anniversary of the events at Cable Street some sixty years ago has been a carnival of Marxist mythology. The cynical attempts by the various organisations of the Left to cash in on the occasion and to somehow claim a direct link between the political struggle of those days and their own twisted activities today is typical of the Marxist mentality. The battle by the British Union of Fascists against the Communist mobs in order to march through the streets of their own city in their own country, is no different to the struggle by British Nationalists and National Socialists today. The same forces and alien ideologies which opposed the BUF in 1936, oppose the British Movement today.

One day the real story of the events at Cable Street will be told and the old Marxist myth will be buried once and for all. Until then the Marxists in British politics will continue to milk this memory for every tear and every penny its worth.

NO TO EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY.

" I WILL NOT BE DICTATED TO ! "

Like my White-race forefathers of generations passed, who, through the process of time, endeavoured to build and establish this island as a once domineering and reputed land; I am a patriot.

I do not consider any non-White race to be a sub-species in the context of being incapable of intellectual capabilities. However, I do believe that the different chromatic skins of the Earth must abide within their established boundaries set within their specific continents.

Creed. In general, any system of belief would be a folly made for differentiating race difference. Religion not only divides races, but it can also divide a race. A nation divided into different factions of resentment is a nation destined to fall.

I myself agree with the philosophy; To conquer a nation by force, that nation will resent.

To conquer a nation that will respect, that nation must envy.

We must endeavour to make this nation a mono-racial society, undivided by religion or political philosophy. We must strive to make this nation a nation of respect. We, the people, must come first and priority given to the working class, for they are the foundation.

Therefore, the people must be the governing body. There should be no government of ministers, but a board of ministers working to administrate to the say of the people. Proposed policies must be set by referendum and the electorate must be allowed to consider and judge all proposals.

I should not have to be under duress of any policy statement issued by a board of authority because I want to be part of the working class. The Equal Opportunities statement tells me how I should reason and should not reason.

That is not democracy, it is indirect dictatorship.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS WIPED OUT THE SPORT OF PISTOL SHOOTING AND THE GUN TRADE.

The sport of pistol shooting has been annihilated almost overnight by the Tory government's Firearms Amendment Bill (1996). Not only the sport has been killed off, but hundreds of gun clubs have been pushed towards bankruptcy, over 3,000 jobs and hundreds of businesses related to firearms and publishing gun magazines have also been wiped out.

The Conservative Home secretary Michael Howard unbelievably acted in tandem with a hysterical media campaign whipped up by liberal and left-wing interests in the wake of the Dunblane killings. The political liberal and left wing have always been anti-gun in Britain. Gun clubs are viewed with suspicion by the Socialists and liberals alike as a sport which has "fascistic and para-military overtones".

The mass murder committed atDunblane was the work of a psychopathic child molestor, Thomas Hamilton. The Police failed totally to control Hamilton and should have denied him access to both young boys and handguns years ago. But instead the Establishment and the media have gone after the gun lobby and have effectively punished 60,000 legitimate and legal gun owners for the failure of the Police, the Home Office and the Scottish courts.

Gun clubs and proficiency with firearms was officially encouraged in Britain after the shambles of the Boer War at the start of this century. Gun clubs, marksmanship and skill with both rifles and handguns were seen as patriotic and character-building activities, essential for civil defence in times of national emergency.

Shooting is a sport which requires order, discipline and commitment. All of which are qualities that the socialist left do not like to see in a so-called "para-military" sport.

The Police have always disliked the idea of civilians having private ownership of weapons, especially as most gun enthusiasts are far better marksmen than the police firearms officers.

The political activists of the Labour party and the Liberal Democrats jumped on the Dunblane bandwagon to get votes and to destroy what they consider to be a 'far-right' sport.

In the fictional American novel "The Turner Diaries", the first serious act of a pro-Zionist government is the Cohen Act which dis-armed the American public and banned guns.

Michael Howard's 1996 Firearms Bill is the first step towards disarming the British people and has done so without any concept of justice.

A British Movement government would encourage the sport of shooting and skill with firearms. The disciplined use of handguns and skills of marksmanship are to be encouraged. A community which can defend itself is a strong community.

Handguns are not the problem, the present decadent society which created and tolerated Thomas Hamilton is the problem.

MORE UNORTHODOX VIEWS.

By Jeff.

The presumption that the Capitalist cause can continue under the guise of democracy is now a singular death-nell to the people who are above the norm in terms of affluence.

The rise of National Socialism will become the executioner of the over-indulged affluent.

The now prevailing wind of change is the discontent of many people who see the need for self rule in the land of their forefathers; changing winds in its struggle to rid people of the dominance of capital aggression, is the inevitability of governments to refute the onslaught of big money lenders, who in reality provide nothing in relation to the true cost of peoples' labour.

It is now the time of the British labourers to stand their ground and put forward to the nation a more humanitarian ideology befitting the dignity of the people of the land. This land, our country, this Britain is not for zealous religionists, eg. Zionists, to dictate to the British public a standard of living by using money, by laundering under the guise of being good people, help British industry. No ! The big money lenders are self appointed Kings, they are ruthless in their endeavours to rule, not only the nation, but the world. Their money is used surreptitiously to engrave upon people grave consequences if they do not adhere to forced borrowing, which in turn provides the Baron, Zionist Kings with a greater say in the living standard of the correct British people.

The aim of National Socialists within the ideology, must be to secure the right of the individual to have a say in the distribution of the wealth created by the people. Only by the people recognising themselves and their neighbour's needs can the British people come together as one government and secure an amicable living standard for all our people.

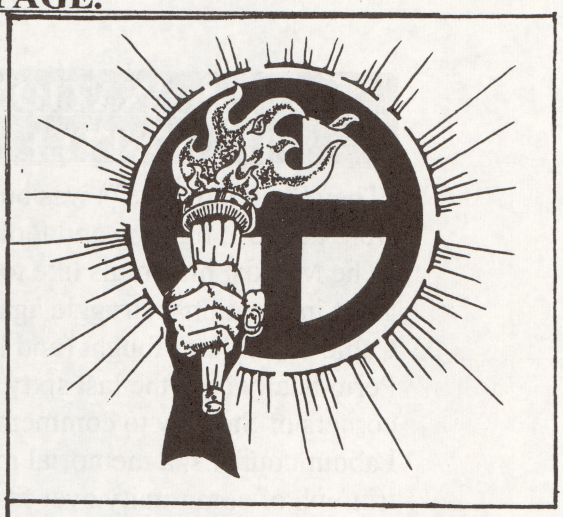
The simplicity of ideology of National Socialism must be the safeguarding of the nation's people.

National Socialism must be the peoples' union.

The peoples' co-operative, the guardians of family businesses, the champion of the nation's honesty towards self.

Honesty to self. The nation cannot permit the intrusion of the obscenity of manipulative money-lenders to seize power over our peoples' initiative to create their own wealth of business and have the business taken away by speculative Zionists and their ilk.

Waken up !

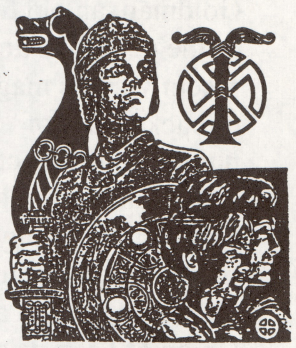


NATIONAL SOCIALISM, A FORCE FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE WHITE, ARYAN CULTURE AND HERITAGE.

National Socialism is a dynamic, forward looking ideology which preserves all that is best in White, European culture and civilisation. It is the ideology which fights to preserve centuries of advancement from decay and destruction by the creeping influences of the Third World and Asia.

National Socialism is more than just a political creed, it is a framework for life. The highest purpose for any living thing in Nature is the preservation, survival and progress of its own kind. Not simply existence, but survival and progress. National Socialism does not exist simply for the maintenance of state, country or government, but is a vehicle for the preservation of the White Race and is therefore a means to an end, not an end itself. National Socialism raises the issue of Race to the level of all other topics in politics and points out the importance of Race and Nation in all things.

The British Movement is a National Socialist organisation and believes that only National Socialism can restore Britain and Europe to their rightful place in the world, with the best kind of society for their peoples.



NEWS AND VIEWS, INFORMATION AND COMMENTS.

COULD THIS OPINION BE DESCRIBED AS RACIAL HATRED ?

An insight into deep rooted racial antagonism was surprisingly supplied in an interview with the black singer/ entertainer Harry Belafonte given to the "Weekend Guardian" on November 16th 1996. Belafonte was talking about his political beliefs and his "anti-racist" activities. There was the compulsory photograph of a younger Belafonte with his arm around the shoulders of Martin Luther King and a recollection of Belafonte's association with the black American actor, singer and self-avowed Communist Paul Robeson.

However most startling amongst the stories of white racist treatment of the younger Belafonte was his account of a favourite film. The article described how Belafonte was awed by a Forties film in which a black African soldier played a hero's part. The film was described as, " part of Eleanor Roosevelt's scheme to glorify the universality of the allied war-effort." But most revealing was Belafonte's favourite scene from the film,

" In the final thrilling moments, it falls to the Sudanese warrior to capture the German who would otherwise survive to win the entire war, and to hold his face in the sand till he suffocates. 'Can you see it ? says Belafonte, as excited now as he was 50-odd years ago. ' A black hand on a blonde head, crushing the life out of it.' And then (and this is the best part) the Germans open fire on the black war hero who has just enough strength to lift his thumb to his comrades to show them they are safe."

Can our readers imagine the outcry if an interview had included a favourite image from a film being being a white hand crushing the life from a negro skull ?

Surely this interview has included a disturbing insight into deep rooted racism ?

But Harry Belafonte is a hero of the liberal, and anti-racist political movements, so his opinions will not be seen as racist or anti-white, but as justified anger born out of generations of oppression.

As in all Marxist thinking, there is one rule for them and a different set of rules for those they oppose.

ARTUR AXMANN
Died October 24th 1996

Artur Axmann died in Germany aged 83. He was one of the last surviving National Socialist leaders from the Third Reich. Axmann was Reichs-Jugendsfuhrer from 1940 until the end of the Reich. Axmann was present at the Bunker in April 1945 when Adolf Hitler made his last on-film appearance reviewing a group of Hitler Youth.

Sentenced to three years imprisonment at the Nuremburg Trials, after his release in 1949, he was banned from all political activity and government jobs for life.

His death was kept a secret for a week to prevent any kind of pro-NS demonstrations at the grave side.

DIANE ABBOTT M.P. (token Black, female Labour Partybackbencher). speaks out against "blonde, blue-eyed " Finnish nurses at Hackney hospital.

Labour M.P. for Hackney and StokeNewington has recently criticised Homerton Hospital in Hackney for recruiting a number of qualified nurses from Finland. Abbott claims that the "blonde, blue-eyed" girls are unfit to work in multi-racial Hackney, and believes that black nurses from the Caribbean should have been recruited. Abbott claimed that Finnish nurses were unsuitable because they may have never met a black person before, and were not therefore suited to the multi-cultural community of the East End of London. Abbott is quoted as saying " Black nurses are leaving the profession all the time because of racism and lack of career development".

Caught out making this anti-White statement, Abbott has fallen back on the standard ethnic-minority accusation that white racism is to blame for everything. Someone should point out that blonde, blue-eyed nurses were the norm in British hospitals until the mass Third World immigration into Britain. Also the majority of the native British, as opposed to the ethnics of Hackney and StokeNewington, tend to be blonde and blue-eyed, so Finnish nurses would not look out of place in the bulk of Britain, outside the multi-racial squalor of the major cities.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST

National-Socialism means these tough, proud warriors taking a stand against all forms of modern degeneracy and weakness, and championing honour, loyalty and duty.

National-Socialism means these tough, racially-aware men and women never letting themselves be conquered by their enemies, and showing by their deeds, rather than by their words, what National-Socialism is:

National-Socialism means tough, racially-aware men and women who are prepared to stand up and fight for Aryan rights and an Aryan way of living.

National-Socialism means these tough, fierce, racially-aware men and women becoming examples for other Aryans to follow. National-Socialism means these tough, fierce, warriors being disciplined and valiant and fighting to create a real revolution.

THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST PRESS. U.K.

The British National Socialist Movement is working towards the creation of an independent printing works and National Socialist press in the British Isles.

The regular news media of television, radio and national newspapers can never be relied upon to give a fair and representative portrayal of National Socialism. Nor will the media ever give a National Socialist perspective to news stories, so as a Movement we must create our own alternative media.

The spreading of the National Socialist message and the production of National Socialist literature is generally hampered by the lack of a central printing facility, production studio and design workshops.

The British Movement intends to change this situation and has set up an appeal to raise the necessary funds. Target figures have been set and fund raising is underway.

ODIN'S DAUGHTERS. British Movement Women's Division.

THE VIXENS (B.M.W.D.)

National Socialist Women of Britain.

The British Movement Women's Division has launched its own supporting publication called "Odin's Daughters". Now into its second edition, this magazine style bulletin is intended to fill a major breach in English language NS publications, the lack of voice for National Socialist women and girls.

Women have historically played a key role in National Socialist organisations across Europe and in Britain.

Women accounted for over 20 per cent of the membership of the British Union of Fascists in the 1930's. The media has always played down the active and supporting role that women play in Nationalist and National Socialist politics.

Now the BMWD seeks to give NS women a voice and and outlet for their views in the pages of "Odin's Daughters".

The Vixens are looking for good articles and artwork written by NS and Nationalist women and girls.

ODINSTRETTON NEWS COLUMN

Well what else could we call it !

Brixton prison must not fly the flag . According to reports in the tabloid press, it the Chief Inspector of Prisons, Sir David Ramsbotham has issued a report which has ordered the staff to remove the string of Union Jacks from the reception area of Brixton prison because the sight of the British flag may offend foreign inmates.

A spokesman from the Prison Inspectorate is quoted as saying, " Brixton has a large contingent of foreign nationals among their inmates and the flags would be open to misinterpretation."

Good to know that the Prison inspectors are so keen to protect foreign criminals from upset in our gaols. Once again the madness of liberalism and political correctness is seen to be undermining every facet of our Nation.

OUR READERS SAY

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for kindly sending me recently some issues of your new periodical Broadsword.

It is obvious at a glance that this represents an upgrading in your output of literature which I applaud. It is also of course pleasant to come across mention of activities of mine many years ago.

With good wishes to you in the continuation of your efforts.

Oh Great Britain, the land from which my forefathers came !
The land that gave me my family name.

You must stand with all your might,
Keep your doors closed to the Alien Night.

I watch from America your troubles, and it hurts me,
The land from which my forefathers came, slowly is sliding into the sea !

America is already lost,
Few remain with the will to fight !

Oh Great Britain, the land from which my forefathers came,
The land that gave me my family name.

You must stand with all your might,
And show us in America the White Man's will to Fight !

Keep your door closed to the Alien Night.

Dear Broadsword,

thank you for the issue of Broadsword, I enjoy reading your articles, it keeps me up on the problems all over the world. The struggle in England is a great concern to me and many others here in the USA. You are still predominently a white power nation and have maintained it for thousands of years, America has already fallen within 3000 years. The blacks no longer work for us, we work for them. I can't even get an entry level job at McDonalds unless I can speak Spanish. This is wrong ! Whites here are being suppressed, our lands are being invaded.

My brothers, I will stand behind you in your struggle, the homeland runs deep in my veins. Even tho' some of us have never been to the homeland (Britain), it still survives in us, that is a bond that ties us thru the blood .

Here is a poem I have written, I hope that you will find it helpful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear patriotic friend,

Thank you for the excellent BM literature. Broadsword appears to be a magazine for those more familiar with NS thoughts and it also deals with topical issues. For instance the European Union and its declaration on anti-racist legislation:- Nationalists know that sick legislation is mostly used as a cudgel against honest historians, people who like to question post-war presentations of history and post-war and present day policies on mass immigration and its social and economic consequences for indigenous folk It is in fact, that mixing people of different cultures and religions together will impair the ethical and moral standards. The multi-cultural liberal western society will go for the lower standards, and this means a lowering of all standards to the detriment of the quality of life for the honest working broad masses. To articulate such issues, is of course, to common sense folk, self preservation. To the drafters of the declaration it would be blatant racism and they would punish any dissenter with medieval brutality. In my book, the superlative of Extremism is multi-culturalism.

I find the other articles in Broadsword excellent and I rate it as one of Britain's best Nationalist publications at present.

with comradely regards,
M. W.

BLOOD AND SOIL.

No matter how much the soil, for example, is able to influence the people, the result will always be a different one, according to the races under consideration. The scanty fertility of a living space may instigate one race towards the highest achievements, while with another race this may only become the cause for the most dire poverty and ultimate malnutrition with all its consequences. The inner disposition of the Folk is always decisive for the way in which outward influences work themselves out. What leads one Folk to starvation, trains the other for hard work.

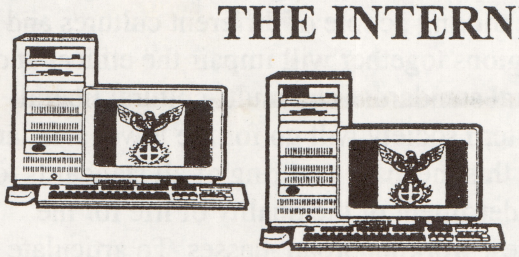
BRITISH MOVEMENT ON THE INTERNET

THE INTERNET



Despite all the interference and all the pressure, our message is still going out !

In line with our policy of using all methods of advancing the message of revived National Socialism, British Movement has now launched its message on the Internet. This means that tens of millions of people around the world can now read about our ideology and policies.

Never before have we had this ability or this immediate access to such a large audience.

The "Establishment" are terrified of the 'Net' as it is impossible to censor.

Your support has made this possible, with your continued support we can not only increase the size of our site but increase the number of our work-stations. We can be reached at:
